NOKIA ONE, MOBILE CONNECTIVITY SERVICE is an effective means of connecting your employees to desktop corporate information such as e-mail, calendars and employee directories, while they are in and out of the office.

Nokia One is convenient, flexible, and easy-to-use with nearly anytime and anywhere access;

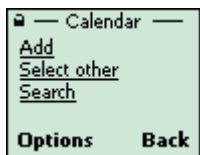

- Global geographical coverage
- Several messaging methods available (SMS, WAP, Voice and web)
- Compatible with a high degree of security
- Simple to install and deploy

Most importantly, Nokia One works with what your employees have today – a mobile phone and existing desktop applications.

Access your calendar using WAP with Nokia One Mobile Connectivity Service

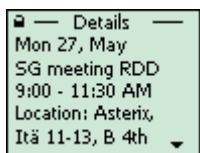

When you enter the calendar you will see a list of your appointments today along with link summaries for tomorrow and the next week.

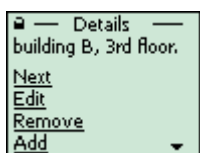

This page also contains a simple menu for adding events, selecting another view (day, week or month) or looking up a particular event.

Here is a day view. Every event is a link to the event's details.

The details are listed if they are filled, for instance location information, description and alert times may appear if entered.

Along with going to the next or the previous event, links for removing, adding, editing or copying an event are displayed.
